6.3.2

In response to the DVV clarification requested we would like to justify the claim on the basis Council of Architecture (COA) Guidelines to Conduct Training Programmes.

We would like to bring the following points to clarify the DVV

- 1) Our regulatory Council of Architecture (COA) stipulates Faculty Development Programme (FDP) Under COA- TRC (Training Research Centres); where in a mandatory amount has to be contributed for Faculty Development by the management.
- 2) The stipulated FDP registration fee amount paid by the management in an academic session is proportion to the average intake of students in last five academic years.
- 3) Registration fee stipulated by COA has been revised over the years (2018-2023). The fee amount has decreased from Rs. 10,000 in the year 2018-19 to Rs. 1,500 in the year 2022-23.
- 4) The institute has provided financial support to all faculties desirous of taking up Faculty Development Programme (FDP).
- 5) It has been noticed that the amount provided as a financial support for taking up the faculty development Programmes has not been fully consumed and can be utilised in the consecutive academic years.
- 6) Evidence of the COA guideline has been provided through a reference email to the institution.
- 7) List of teachers who have been provided the financial support to attend conference/workshop is given below.

Registration Deadline - 29th July

PREAMBLE

Research in architecture encompasses original investigations conducted in order to generate knowledge, insights, and understanding based on expertise, methods, and tools specific to the discipline.

Architectural research is an intrinsic part of the design process, but it is also a professional path that highlights scientific evidence and explores alternatives outside of pre-established norms. Creating a knowledge base can help achieve objectively better outcomes through design. This training program is designed to convey the importance of architectural research in practice and academia and to guide researchers through the opportunities and platforms currently available.

The program would be beneficial to academicians, research scholars, and practicing architects to create a better understanding of the types of architectural research, methodologies, scope, and opportunities as well as possibilities for pursuing a career in architectural research.

5 Days Online Faculty Development Programme

26TH - 30TH SEPTEMBER 2022

About Workshop

Man is a 'Social - Animal' is a well-known and understood adage. For every human to grow, progress, prosper and "sustain" naturally needs constant, continuous human company, care, cooperation to meet every individuals social, cultural, economical and most vital the psychological support and upliftment and the master designers of the past very well understood and realised this essence (the soul) and planned and built almost every type of built form be it dwellings, public spaces essentially being "Introvertly Humane" in form of clusters, wadas to ensure that the spaces both built and unbuilt develop, promote and "sustain" a constant intermingling, interaction, cooperation, coexistence, between every person occupying or using those spaces-"The Architecture".

The programme intends to deliberate with the intent to rekindle and retrieve the wisdom of the past and blend - synthesise it with advancement made by present day science and technology to regain lasting solutions essentially 'Humane' in their outlook and results.

Key Takeaway

Learning possible ways and means to

- Discover the lost "Soul-the Man"
- Discover and revive the obliterated wisdom and reinfusing the soul in Architecture in new 'Avatar' recreated, rekindled by adopting modern science and technology.

PREAMBLE

Buildings are the vessels of our stories; they are our cultural artifacts and contain the stories of who we are, where we have come from, and where we shall be going to. The programme on ancient texts is intended towards understanding the probable conceptualisation and evolution of certain architectural spaces that are of profound interest and significance in contemporary times as well. It is an attempt to design a bridge that connects to the ancient systems and texts that have been anticipated as the origin of these architectural evolutions and probable influencers in its further development in India and the subcontinent. This training programme would focus on the correlation of Ancient Indian Texts to design philosophy of space, planning and ecology within the socio-cultural context.

UNDERSTANDING TEMPLES

7th December to 11th December 2020

Last date for Registration: 1st December 2020

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

As with any other form of the builtform, temples, have been a direct response to their contemporary needs of worship and society. Since its earliest origins up to the present day, the architectural expression of the temple has changed dramatically, yet retaining its fundamental principles of planning. From tree-worship and wayside shrines to the elaborately designed urban monuments, temples encompass the plurality of cultural landscapes that have caused its very metamorphosis.

This workshop looks at the range of dynamics that have affected these changes. These include not only the changing practices of the religion itself but also its mythologies, documentation of tangible and intangible aspects, spatial movements, regional responses, the use and design of the temple precincts. We will conclude with the positioning of the temple and its form in modern times.

Short Term Training Programme on SUSTAINABLE HABITAT

Under Human Capacity Building Program at Visvesvaraya National Institute of Technology, Nagpur
24th - 28th September 2019

THE PROJECT

The project aims to build capacity by imparting training on "Climate Change Adaptation and Mitigation" with focus on various components like sustainable habitat, green building, disaster risk reduction and management, and socio-economic vulnerability and livelihood. Under this project, VNIT Nagpur will be conducting ten training courses during 2017-20.

ABOUT THE COURSE

Many of today's global problems arise from the availability and use of natural resources, caused by growing population and changes in lifestyle. The Ministry of New and Renewable Energy of India (Energy Access, 2012) states that India has the world's 5th largest generation capacity and it is the 6th largest energy consumer accounting for 3.4% of global energy consumption. Sustainable habitat is the single most influencing factor which outlines a society's aspiration for living a sustainable life. Habitat policies are government's response in understanding problems, perceived approach towards the remedies, and visualize future development of the society. Future habitat can only be sustainable and inclusive if we can replace the traditional ways of visualizing policy merely with economic cost benefit outcome. Our approach is to visualize habitat not only from the perspective of space but also its deep ecological and emotional values attached with spaces. This programme aims at training the participants in the area of Sustainable Habitat. The five day-long course will be majorly focusing on:

- Introduction to Green Rating Systems, GRIHA and IGBC, Energy & Water Efficiency.
- Water as a resource, Municipal Water supply and Sanitation, Ecology and Environment, Inclusive Growth.
- Health and Cities, Energy Consumption, Green Building, ECBC, Renewable Resources.

“Teaching Indian Architectural History”

Convened by Prof. Jayashree Deshpande, Director, COA-TRC, Pune

Coordinated by Dr. Vaishali Prasad Latkar,

Head, M. Arch. (Architectural Conservation), Sinhgad College of Architecture, Pune

Venue: Council of Architecture Training & Research Centre (COA-TRC), Pune

Dates: 11th to 15th May 2020

Last Date of Registration

6th May 2020

Preamble-

Historic architecture has always been a highly debated and largely neglected domain in architectural education. It results in a disconnect with our cultural past in architectural practices. A close inspection of the architectural practices in India reveals that many of our post-independence Indian masters owe their success to their rootedness in our past. Scholars today recommend study of historic architecture for creation of culturally responsive sustainable architecture. Architectural history is no more a discipline rooted in style and periods but is a repository of our traditional knowledge. Postcolonial theories highlight the disconnect with our cultural past. Thus, we need to review our theoretical position on historic architecture in keeping with various emerging theories. Large number of scholars have done pioneering research about Indian architecture in recent times.

Are our architectural history teachers aware of this and trained for this? Are they aware of the nuances of 'history' as a discipline? Architectural History is a very specialized domain that evolved from art history and has its own set of pedagogical challenges that need to be addressed. When oriental philosophy is strongly emerging in heritage conservation practices as a school, architects at large are still ignorant about the subtleties of the same.

This training program offers an opportunity to learn about the history as a subject, philosophical stances related to history, introduction to new approaches for understanding history. Exclusive sessions on different phases of Indian history by experts from Indology, archaeology and architecture are planned to give new insights into each phase along with pedagogical knowledge and technical innovations to enrich the capabilities of the history teacher.

PROJECT: Capacity Building for Climate Change Adaptation and Mitigation with a Special Focus on Sustainable Habitat and Risk Management

DEPARTMENT OF SCIENCE & TECHNOLOGY
Government of India
VISHVESVARAYA NATIONAL INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY,
NAGPUR

Short Term Course on Extreme Events, Disaster Risk Reduction and Management
Under Human Capacity Building Program at Visvesvaraya National Institute of Technology, Nagpur
11th - 15th March 2019

THE PROJECT

The project aims to build capacity by imparting training on "Climate Change Adaptation and Mitigation" with focus on various components like sustainable habitat, green building, disaster risk reduction and management, and socio-economic vulnerability and livelihood. Under this project, VNIT Nagpur will be conducting ten training courses during 2017-20.

ABOUT THE COURSE

"The more governments, UN agencies, organizations, businesses and civil society understand risk and vulnerability the better equipped they will be to mitigate disasters when they strike and save more lives" -Ban Ki-moon, United Nations Secretary-General. Extreme events are events that have extreme values of certain important meteorological variables. Damage is often caused by extreme values of certain meteorological variables such as large amounts of precipitation (e.g., floods), high wind speeds (e.g., cyclones), high temperatures (e.g., heat waves), sudden and violent shaking (Earthquakes) etc. A disaster is a sudden, calamitous event that seriously disrupts the functioning of a community or society and causes human, material and economic or environmental losses that exceed the community's or society's ability to cope using its own resources. Though often caused by nature, disasters can have human origins. The National Disaster Management Plan of India incorporates substantively the approach enunciated in the Sendai Framework and aims to make India disaster resilient, achieve substantial disaster risk reduction, and significantly decrease the losses of life, livelihoods, and assets - economic, physical, social, cultural, and environmental- by maximizing the ability to cope with disasters at all levels of administration as well as among communities. This course aims at addressing the concerns of NDMA and training the stake holders.

It focuses on 1) Geophysically triggered disasters like earthquake, Tsunami, Landslide; 2) Extreme events like Heat Wave, Cyclone, Urban Floods, etc. and 3) building fire; Each unit will focus on understanding the fundamentals of extreme events / disaster, related risk and possible mitigation and adaptation methods with respect to human settlements.

Preamble

Architecture research is mightily important to success and ultimate viability for the Profession. Architectural research has been conducted throughout the history of Architecture. Conduct of architectural research outside the confines of specific building project is a much more recent phenomenon. Increasing pace of "Post industrial technological change has exploded the knowledge base research" for architecture profession, so that systemic investigation of situation/ problem in order to generate new knowledge is most required. Over last two decades, great variety of research activity has continued. Research is gaining importance in architecture education as well as in profession in the realm of built environment. Aim of this training program is to provide an introductory guide for everyone wishing to conduct research as an aspect of built environment. This opens up a new avenue in research and helps the researcher in extrapolating the findings to the real world of practice. The objective of this five day training program is to demystify the process of research. It will focus on methodology, types of research, framing research topics, aim, objective and hypothesis, data collection, data analysis etc.

Key themes of the Program would include :

- Types of research in Architecture
- Tools and Techniques of Research
- Research methods
- Framing synopsis
- Framing research title / Proposals.
- Framing Research Questions
- Data collection and data analysis
- Use of statistics.
- Ethics in research

CONSTRUCTIVE CRIT

Revisiting pedagogical objectives of a Design Jury

PREAMBLE

The design jury, design critique, or crit is a common teaching and learning strategy within art, design, and architecture education. It dates back to the nineteenth century Beaux-Arts school of architecture education and has since evolved into a variety of different formats within architectural education. The aim of the design crit is to provide oral formative or summative feedback, depending on when the crit occurs in relation to the design exercise, and to prepare the students for their careers as professional designers presenting their designs to clients.

There are criticisms on the process of crit as being more negative and not comprehending to heighten the learning atmosphere for student anxiety, students' inability to learn from the feedback, power asymmetry between student and faculty or privileging professional acculturation over student learning. Yet it is universally accepted that Design crit is a distinguishing factor of education so, there arises a need to relook into various methods and techniques of conducting a constructive crit.

The five day programme would look out to explore various components of a design crit focussing on the learning objectives and outcomes of the level of the design education, studio brief and expected quality of work from the students, relevance of the crit and take away from the comments given, ways to incorporate the jury comments into furthering the design process. The discussions would focus on the crit environs like timing, participants, audience, feedback, purpose, language and location. ET all, the programme would conclude with finding ways to device the process of crit as a conducive method of design pedagogy.

TOPICS TO BE ADDRESSED

WHEN ? Planning and scheduling Crits during the design process, Methods of conducting Crit/ Jury

WHAT ? Expectations of a Jury panel and preparing students to address them, Submission requirements, standard of work, Quantitative and qualitative assessment of Architectural works

HOW? Process of Jury, Language of Crit, Level of inputs, Dialogue between the student and the juror, Constructive methods of Critique

WHY? Expected outcomes, Logical reasoning for comments given

WHO? Addressing students of various level, selection of jurors
